

Are You Thankful for Comfortable Feet?

This is the time of year when we should count our blessings. And one of the greatest blessings a woman can have is comfortable feet.

Do you, like so many women today, seek relief from fatigue and foot troubles? It is not to be found in heavy, broad-toed shoes with stiff shanks; nor in foot appliances. Unnatural hindrances that hamper the natural functions of your feet injure your health and depress your spirits.

Cantilever Shoe

because it permits their feet to regain their natural resilience and endurance. The flexible arch of Cantilevers is pulled up to give just the right support to the foot arch by the mere act of lacing your shoes. Your foot can exercise freely in them, too, because the arch of the Cantilever shoe flexes with every movement of the foot.

The Cantilever Shoe follows the natural lines of the foot. Inuit your toes are never crowded and your feet are comfortable. It is a light shoe made of fine soft leathers that hold their shape. If you haven't yet worn Cantilevers, buy your first pair tomorrow and you will soon be thankful for relief from fatigue and foot trouble.

VETERANS BUREAU HERE IS UNDER FIRE

Representative Husted Charges It With Inefficiency and Neglect of Duty.

HE THREATENS INQUIRY

Physicians and Examiners Are Declared Incompetent—Two Cases Cited.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.
Inefficiency and neglect of ex-service patients on the part of the New York city office of the Veterans Bureau was charged today by Representative Husted (N. Y.). Mr. Husted said if the bureau's service was not improved immediately he would demand an investigation of the New York branch.

Mr. Husted quoted the case of Lloyd Tuttle of Peekskill, blind in his left eye and whose right eye is affected. Oculists say it is only a question of time when Tuttle will be blind. He receives $30 a month as compensation. Requests for more compensation have been refused.

Martin J. Bauer of Westchester county has tubercular trouble and is said to be slowly dying. He is married and has one child. His case has been pending in the Veterans Bureau for two years without a satisfactory settlement.

William A. McCormack, New York, wounded in service, is working as a molder. Because of disabilities he is unable to work more than two or four hours a day. He has been refused disability in service.

It was declared that physicians and examiners of the New York office are "inefficient and incompetent." A man from the Veterans Bureau at Washington is said to be in New York city investigating that branch.

Here is an extract from a letter that Mr. Husted sent to Major W. F. Lent, district manager of the Veterans Bureau in New York city:
"I have a number of cases in my office that have been repeatedly referred to the New York office and nothing has been accomplished. It is the same old stereotyped reply that the physician who made the examination has been called on for a report. I now intend to have immediate action on these cases and if I fail to receive a suitable reply within a limited time I shall bring the matter up on the floor of the House and if necessary introduce a bill for an immediate investigation of the New York office."

"The decentralization feature of the Washington office is, in my opinion, an absolute failure. When the chairman of the main office a personal interview would result in an early settlement, but under present conditions it is impossible to advise a disabled ex-service man when his claim will be adjudicated."

CITY COLLEGE ALUMNI HAVE REUNION DINNER

Vassar Professor Warns of Provincialism's Danger.

More than 600 alumni of the College of the City of New York were at the Hotel Commodore last night for the annual banquet of the Associate Alumni of the college. Justice Robert F. Wagner of the Supreme Court, whose class was 1898, was toastmaster. The guest of honor was Gen. George W. Goethals.

Speakers included Dr. Burgess Johnson, professor of literature at Vassar College, who warned his hearers to guard against becoming provincial in New York; Arthur Guiterman, poet, who read some of his poems; George Hoyt Taylor, Jr., recently elected Justice of the Supreme Court, and Dr. Walter M. Brickner, editor of the American Journal of Surgery.

DEAN SAYS COLLEGIAN IS A PLAYING ANIMAL

Discusses Also Effect of Learning on Religion.

"The college man is not merely a book-learning animal. He is also a playing animal, a social animal, a spiritual animal," declared Herbert E. Hawkes, dean of Columbia, in his annual report to Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the university, made public yesterday. Counsel in religion is a duty the college owes to its students, asserts Dean Hawkes. Outlining his purpose to work toward this end with the university chaplain and with the director of Earl Hall, the dean says:

"It is commonly believed that college tends to upset the religious faith. Just how this is true it is impossible to say. Statistics on such questions are almost valueless since they are usually based upon terms which are not, and often cannot be, defined. In this connection 'atheist,' 'agnostic' and 'infidel' are used freely, often meaning little more than a divergence in opinion on matters of doctrine from the critic.

"But after all, any one who has come in close contact with many students realizes that the college experience almost inevitably causes, or at any rate, accompanies, a readjustment of feeling toward religious matters. In many cases the roots of religious feeling are intimately intertwined about alleged facts of science, history of philosophy which modern scholarship finds to be without foundation. It is natural that as the student feels the disturbance around the facts of his faith he should mistake the sensation for an injury to the faith itself.

"In the course of time, frequently after graduation from college, the matter is readjusted on a firmer and finer basis than the old one, but often not without serious agitation and distress."

The next step for the development of Columbia College can best be accomplished, Dean Hawkes suggests, by the erection on South Field of a building that shall contain a dining room, a grill or commons, ample space for student organizations, the university gymnasium and rooms that will relieve the pressure on Hamilton Hall.

COLLEGE HEAD THINKS DARWIN AIDS RELIGION

Dr. H. C. King Sees in Evolution a Larger Plan of God.

The theory of evolution has broadened and strengthened religion rather than acted upon it destructively, asserted Dr. Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin College, in a defense of Darwinism yesterday in a lecture under the Deems Foundation of Christian Philosophy at New York University.

"It is a crude misunderstanding of evolution to suppose that it puts everything on a level, and particularly that it puts man on the level of lower animals," said Dr. King. "Our study of the contributions of modern science to the ideal interests suggests that we need not stop in the mere defence of the evolution point of view, but we may expect from evolution positive gains for religion. The evolution viewpoint gives a larger plan and aim of God in the universe."

WANT US TO ADMIT SMYRNA REFUGEES

Speakers at Immigration Dinner Tell of Proposed Bill to Modify Alien Law.

CAMPAIGN NEXT MONTH

Young Armenian Woman Describes Atrocities Which She Saw as Turk Captive.

A bill to amend the 3 per cent. immigration law to permit Smyrna refugees who have relatives to enter this country in excess of their quota will be introduced in Congress next month. The bill was explained by speakers at a dinner of the committee on the Near East of the Conference on Immigration Policy last night at the City Club.

Mrs. Edith Perry Bremer said the 3 per cent. restriction had been designed before any such emergency as the burning of Smyrna had arisen and was preventing the country from offering a haven to those "whose plight knew no parallel in history."

Mrs. Satrag Shahinian, a young Armenian, told of her experience in Asia Minor as a captive of the Turks and Arabs in the World War. She had seen her own father and uncle killed, her sisters mutilated and was herself tattooed, tortured, and all but slain by her Turkish captors.

Theodore Bartoli, an Italian, told of his first hand experience in the Smyrna massacre in which he had seen his mother murdered before his eyes, his brother driven insane, and his sisters commit suicide to escape the Turks. He asserted that Smyrna had been fired by the Turks and said he had seen a Turkish motor lorry distributing the oil which carried the blaze from place to place about the city. Without intervention by Christian nations he predicted that a similar fate was in store for Christians in Constantinople.
